Course offered

REL/HIST/PHIL/ID 290: Special Topics: St. John Henry Newman

When?

May 30-June 7, 2020

What will you do?

- Experience sites in the UK and Rome from the life of St. John Henry Newman and learn about his historical, philosophical, academic, and spiritual significance

Important dates

Application deadline: March 15, 2020

This program will be led by Jenny Koch, Catholic campus minister, serving the University of Evansville, and is open to students of all universities, majors, and religious backgrounds. It can be taken as a for-credit course in history, philosophy, religion, or interdisciplinary studies to involve studying the ideas and life of St. John Henry Newman or without credit as a spiritual pilgrimage. Participants will visit sites associated with St. Newman in Oxford and England with Harlaxton College. Tekton Ministries will then coordinate experiences at a wide variety of sites in Rome associated both with St. Newman and the Catholic faith, including the Wednesday Audience with Pope Francis.
